Description	The finest wines in the Danube region grow on the steep terraced vineyards of Stein an der Donau. Here, in the neighboring village of Loiben, is the gateway to the Wachau. The narrow Danube valley Wachau opens up to the east at this point. Here, vines grow on the rockiest soils and enjoy perfect insolation. You can also clearly feel the invigorating west winds, which protect the vines from fungal diseases. Wines from Stein embody ripe stone fruit with depth and pronounced nuances of tobacco. Wines that get an extra dose of ageing potential.
	2024 - charming wines with good ripeness and round acidity. The weather was very much influenced by climate change. The bud break happened at the End of March, a month earlier than average. The four frosty nights in the third week of April slowed growth, but also caused significant losses in volume. Consistently warm temperatures and a good water supply ensured rapid ripening. The harvest started at the End of August. In mid-September, huge amounts of rain interrupted the harvest, which ended at the beginning of October.
